

Frequency Record

Use this data sheet to record behaviors that have a clear beginning and end. Record each time that the behavior is observed. This count will determine if a behavior is increasing or decreasing.

Name:	Start Date:
Behavior:
Mastery:

Instructions:

1. Record name, date, behavior, and criterion for mastery.
2. Shade in one box each time the target behavior is observed.
3. Data automatically forms a bar graph picture of the behavior.

Date
Trial
20.
19.
18.
17.
16.
15.
14.
13.
12.
11.
10.
9.
8.
7.
6.
5.
4.
3.
2.
1.

